Field of the Invention The present invention relates to liquid crystal display devices, and more particularly to a liquid crystal display device having a group of output terminals. 2. Description of the Related Art A liquid crystal display device includes a pair of display panels, and a liquid crystal material is disposed between the display panels. In an active matrix liquid crystal display device, a plurality of group of output terminals, which connect the group of output terminals to a common output line via a switching thin film transistor, are provided at one of the display panels. Such an arrangement of a plurality of group of output terminals at one of the display panels, however, causes connection errors or opens between two group of terminals, which results in poor yields, which is a drawback. In order to avoid the drawbacks of the arrangement of the group of output terminals, an arrangement has been proposed wherein the number of group of output terminals is reduced by applying thin film transistors at each group of output terminals and connecting the output lines provided at each group of output terminals to a common output line via thin film transistors. Although this arrangement is effective to reduce the drawbacks, it is impossible to use conventional techniques to fabricate thin film transistors in the arrangement, and thus an expensive manufacturing apparatus is required for this arrangement.Q: How to create and set enum in TypeScript How can I define an enum in TypeScript with
